Re: Docket No. 92-90

Dear Office of the Secretary:

I am writing regarding Docket No. 92-90, Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991, which is in the drafting process.

I am a realtor with Century 21 LAD, in Aptos, California. "Cold Calling" is a vital part of my livelihood, and it would be detrimental to me, and to the Residential Real Estate Industry in general, if this restrictive regulation is passed.

I ask that you NOT restrict person-to-person solicitations to residential homes. Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Judy M. Brose

Re: Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991

Dear Sirs:

It has come to my attention that the Federal Communications Commission is drafting a regulation to restrict person-to-person solicitations to residential homes. I am writing to let you know how important "cold calling" is to my business.

"Cold calling" is my way to reach the general public and let them know, adverse to what they are reading and hearing from the news media, that Real Estate is still one of the best investments they can make today. It is also a means to let the people know the market activity in their neighborhood, thereby continuing to keep real estate active, which definitely stimulates the economy.

We, in the Real Estate field, are very courteous in our calling. "Cold calling" is one of the most important aspects of our businesses. It would be devastating if this regulation were to pass.

Please give this careful consideration.

Sincerely,

A. Henson del Campo

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to let you know that I as a residential real estate agent cannot continue to be successful in this business if I am restricted from making cold calls on the telephone. I am imploring you not to draft a regulation to restrict person-to-person solicitations to residential homes.

The residential real estate industry cannot continue to grow and attempt to bring this country out of its present economic condition if this restraint of trade should be imposed on our industry.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter and we implore you to reconsider this regulation.

Yours very truly,

James J. Carlett

Dear FCC Secretary:

I am corresponding to you regarding a matter that is before you that effects my business. I understand that the FCC is drafting a regulation to restrict person to person solicitations to residential homes.

I can not begin to tell you how devastating this regulation would be to my line of work. I am top realtor in my area. Cold calling is the main source of my generation of business. Without the use of solicitation, my volume of transaction would be almost be extinct.

I encourage you to give this matter serious thought. You will be affecting thousands of people incomes, including me own.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for your time and serious consideration of this matter.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in regards to Docket No. 92-90 Telephone Consumer Protection Act of 1991. I can't begin to tell you how important "cold" calling is to my business in particular and the residential real estate industry in general. It helps to prospect faster and make our time more productive. The majority of people that I contact, do not mind because I am providing a service for them instead of trying to sell something. Please do not draft a regulation to restrict person-to-person solicitations to residential homes. The Real Estate market is suffering enough without yet another blow to affect it.

Sincerely,
JoAnn Barnes
